What do you like to read or watch?

I enjoy watching nearly every of movie or TV series. The only genre I don't enjoy watching is horror. Even though I enjoy reading stories about horror, I don't like
There are some stories that are from real, but they seem like fiction.
I love reading or watching stories about these unbelievable moments from history. One example is the story of the Army in the Second World War. This army was made up of actors,, and directors and used fake vehicles, but they fooled the enemy and saved many lives.
I also love watching or reading about hard fiction, which are stories about what people think could really happen in the One example of this kind of story is "The Martian" by Andy Weir. It tells the story of a future astronaut to Mars who is stranded and has to use his scientific knowledge to Finally, I like reading or watching history stories. The author of these stories imagines what would happen if key events in history turned out differently, and how things might because of those differences.
How about you? What do you like to or watch?
